JEWS IN THE U. S. A.

(Editorial by C. Leon de Aryan)

Reading the current Jewish daily and weekly press, where Jew speaks to Jew, we find that they are screaming persistently against "spreading hate" by the "anti-Semites, who are Nazis", or at least Nazi-inspired. The effect is intended to scare anybody from saying an unkind word about Jews, we must love them from fear of being branded a Nazi, but not because they call out Love and Admiration in us.

And that is exactly what we decry about Jews.

They use force and violence, they attempt to accomplish by trickery and "smartness" what they refuse to do honestly. And the charge of the whole anti-Semitic press is this very charge of trickery and indirection. The Christ way is the only way by which Jews could and would, and a few of them do, elicite our respect, affection and admiration. Then the bloodthirsty Jewish "Liberals" point to those few, and exceptional Jews, saying to us: "You are generalizing against Jews, look at these examples of Jewry".

In speaking for myself only, I hate Hate, as much as I hate intellectual Dishonesty. And so I am charging the Jewish press with both. I do not hate the Jews and have never the slightest intention of spreading hate against them. But I am not to be frightened into suppressing the truth about Jewish activities in our midst. If the report of Jewish activities spreads hatred of Jews, then let the Jews beware. I am not to be gainsaid spreading those reports and on that score I'll hold my own and fight against all collectivist Jewry till Doomsday.

Every honest and intelligent Jew knows that my attitude is correct and conscientious as an editor and good citizen. The only weakness with the enlightened Jew is his sympathy with the criminal Jews, the arrogant Jews, the unscrupulous Jews, the "smart" Jews, because all Jews have been persecuted, ever since their race came into existence. The resentful mob makes no distinction between good and bad Jews. And the "orthodox, Kosher Jews" are generally too fanatic to examine themselves in the light of American standards to find out whether they fit into the picture of America as a progressive nation and country. The fault, then, lies in the ignorance and the prejudice of both, the mob and the Kikes.

This is a problem that confronts not only us, as Americans, who are concerned with the progress of the American people, but especially is it the problem of enlightened Jewry. It is not the Nazis who spread anti-Semitism, it is the Jews. Read their weekly press and you need no further proof.

There should be an organized effort by enlightened Jews and Americans to educate the Kikes and the lynch-ready mobs. Both need enlightening and improving. When a markedly Jewish movement dares come to the front to denounce the tactics of the Kikes, fearlessly, and by individual and organized example, point out that the Jew who lives up to his own religion by loving and serving his God with all his might and all his soul, and his neighbors as himself, is a Jew, true to himself and fitting into the American picture, then papers like the Broom will have a contact point for collaboration to free the earth of the curse of lynch riots and excesses.

Our editorial concern is for law and order. From that viewpoint we deplore excesses of any kind. But as long as the "smart" Jews propose to undermine our government, deprive us of our Constitution by "smart" Frankfurter judicial trick interpretation of our own laws, we would be a traitor to our own America to permit such infringements to prevail without hindrance, by being afraid of the wrath of the Jews if we dared speak the truth as we find it.

Every conscientious American is facing the dilemma of either becoming an "anti-Semite", so-called, or on letting America go the way of Europe when Jews took over. Even the Babylonians and Egyptians rose up in wrath and "enslaved" the Jews as soon as they tried to take over. This historic trait of the Jewish race is the cause of their "persecution".

No Jew who truly lives up to the highest tenet of his own religion in practice needs fear persecution in America, for he becomes too well known among conscientious Americans who will vouch for him. But no Jew needs fool himself that as the present tactics and tempo of "taking over" progress, they can suspend the law of self-preservation. Enlightened people protect themselves and their interests by lawful procedure, ignorant people apply the Mosaic law of an eye for an eye and hence lynch the intruders.

When we face the conflict between two rules of life, one the Christ rule of Love and the other the Mosaic rule of the jungle law, let those Jews who advocate hate and persecution, an eye for an eye, beware!

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

The G. O. P. is hard up for candidates for President. We consider Sen. Taft as the best available man, but he seems to eliminate himself by endorsing Gov. Bricker of Ohio. Why should the G. O. P. want to duplicate the Harding performance? After each world war do we have to have a drunkard for president?!

Speaking of Gov. Dewey of New York as a prospective candidate, we cannot help but remember the Fritz Kuhn incident. The New York B'nai B'rith had sworn to "get" the Bund leader by hook and by crook, and they got him alright; only the means employed are as rotten and even worse, than the means employed by U. S. Ast. Atty., Wm. P. Maloney in "convicting" Viereck, as the Supreme court itself characterized the "foul blows" when it reversed the conviction.

Thomas Dewey knew quite well that under the law he could not put Kuhn behind prison bars, but as a politician, needing campaign funds and support, he was not beyond entering into the "Maloney" class. Hence the woman whom Kuhn had trusted by placing his honor, as well as his money, in her hands, was approached properly to turn against "her man" and with the necessary inducements the woman who once sold her charms to Kuhn, gladly sold her confidences to Dewey's agents, or should we say to B'nai B'rith's agents, since Dewey was their agent, too.

The New York state law, protecting honest stockholders and members of legitimate organizations, was stretched sufficiently to cover the Kuhn situation in the Bund and by further proper persuasion other members of the Bund were found, willing to "testify to the embezzlement" by Kuhn of his own Bund funds. On this technicality, the man, who had every right to use the funds even for personal expenses, was "convicted" of stealing from an outlawed organization, since the Bund is outlawed. It is as if 2 gamblers went to law to have the courts protect the winner against the loser, when both are equally outside the law. Or as if the courts were to protect a thief who complains that his partner in thievery robbed him.

The presidency should be held by men who can stay sober even when they take a drink or two, not like Bricker who does not know when to stop.

And it should be held by men who will not degrade the courts to protect one outlaw against another in an outlawed deal. The fact that Dewey does not know the difference, and, for political profit, was willing to prostitute the judicial process at a time of hysteria when such tactics were popular, brands Dewey.

A racket buster is popular, but we don't want one for president who busts up one racket merely to supplant it with another of his own.

Republicans should shop around for candidates whose record can stand scrutiny.

When they turn to Gov. Warren of California they should remember that at the eleventh hour, Atty. Gen. Warren of California, went over and paid homage to the Ham and Eggers, offering to do better by them than Gov. Olson had done who failed to keep his pre-election promises. Warren is good presidential timber only if the G. O. P. figures that since F. D. R. never kept a promise, but was elected 3 times, they need another one of that kind to unseat him. In that case Warren is the ideal candidate, for political expediency is his religion and he has no scruples.

World Wants American Dollars !

"I hope we shall never forget that we created this nation not to serve ourselves but to serve mankind," said Woodrow Wilson in an address to the G. A. R. at Washington on September 28, 1915.

That must have been news to Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, who looked on it as job enough for one lifetime to serve America. It is, however, from such rhetorical, sentimental and untrue statements as the above that has been born the "we serve the world" sewing circle "statemen" in Washington and in our colleges.

The world doesn't want us to "serve" it in the Wilsonian sense. It wants—after the war—our dollars.—Benjamin de Casseres.

RHODES SCHOLAR, BRITISH SUPPORTER

WASHINGTON—Fulbright vs. Caraway—A unique senatorial race will take place when the senate's sole lady member, Hattie Caraway of Arkansas, runs for re-election next year against brainy young Bill Fulbright, congressman from Arkansas.

Fulbright, a Rhodes scholar, later president of the University of Arkansas, is one of the most brilliant, progressive young members of the house.

A first termer, 38 years old, he introduced the Fulbright resolution, pledging the United States to participate in world affairs after the war to maintain permanent peace. In so doing, Fulbright took the ball away from the senate, charged with leading on foreign affairs, and current debate in the senate is just catching up with him.—Drew Pearson.

Oscar Ameringer

By Milton Mayer, in The Progressive

Oscar Ameringer is dead. As if anybody cared. As if anybody cared that a bag of old bones has gone cold when the Russians have just killed 900,000 Germans, and the Germans have just killed 900,000 Russians. As if anybody cared that an old man has been carried off when the lives of the best of all our young men are a dime a dozen and nobody counts the cost.

As if anybody cared that Oscar Ameringer is dead and the oil that was Oscar's life is a little lower in the lamp of liberty. As if anybody cared that a man is gone who couldn't get it through his thick head that civilized, Christian warfare would save the world. As if anybody cared that a man is gone who wasted his life on the commonwealth and never looked out for himself.

Good riddance, say I, to him and his likes, to all gadflies, trouble-makers, hell-raisers, disruptionists, and hecklers. Bad rubbish, say I, and so say all of us, and let us throw a hasty shovelful of dirt and get on with the business that Oscar called "moral uplift via mass murder". Let us be shut of him and his likes, and of all such misfits who insist that the way to save the world is to substitute cooperation for competition. Let us etch out of the glorious story of the race the names of men who boast, as Oscar boasted, that they never led an army up the hill or down the hill or left an army dead on the hill.

The Happiest Warrior

I sing of a man who came from a Swabian village where the peasants for centuries said, "The king goes to war, and the people die". I sing of a man who saw in America a chance of winning a war that the kings would not make, a war in which the people would live. I sing of a soldier, of Heine's (Oscar's Heine) "brave soldier in humanity's war for emancipation". I sing of a man who fought all his life in the great undeclared war and never lifted his hand against any man. I sing of a general whose ragged army is always the terror of all the Caesars. I sing of a prophet unhonored, as prophets should be, I apologize to Oscar for singing of him when he wants to sleep.

Of all the warriors that ever were, Oscar was the happiest. His happiness sets him apart from the rest and provides the rest of us who would be warriors with the secret of success.

When life threatened to get him down—as it does all of us—Oscar diverted the old boy's attention with a funny story and made his getaway while the old boy was splitting his sides with laughter. His happiness told him that the cooperative commonwealth wasn't going to be born next Thursday, and didn't, as a result, go off his nut when it wasn't.

Taft For President

By Benjamin DeCasseres

To Senator Taft of Ohio.

Dear Senator:

You are what is called a "passive candidate" for the Republican presidential nomination.

Personally, I like your clear, forthright manner of presenting ideas and your common-sense tone of voice in announcing them. You strike me as being, with Governor Dewey, the perfect type of oldline conservative-liberal American.

You are in the tradition, so to speak, of our best Presidents conceived solely as administrators and executives and not as glo-baloney crusaders.

But, Senator, I have my grave doubts about your capturing the nomination. And if you do capture it, I have still graver doubts as to your election, and for these reasons:

Yon cannot swoon-croon on the radio.

You can't dramatize nonsense.

You are not a student of Frank Sinatra and Harry James.

You speak as though you really mean what you say.

You don't bombilate in vast rhetorical brays.

You talk like a thinker, not like a political juke-box.

Again, you have made no preposterous promises.

My Dear Senator, are you not conscious that unless you know the art of making promises of which you have not the slightest intention or ability to fulfill you'll never get to the White House?

You must promise a $40 a week dole to everybody from the cradle to the grave.

You must threaten to put all "capitalists" in the clink.

You must promise to provide an electric ice-box for every Chinese family and firemen's suspenders to all the little Hottentots.

You must promise a porterhouse steak every day to every family in the land and free bus rides to and from work for every Iraquian.

You must promise to subsidize the farmers and give them free scarecrows.

You must promise to pay off, out of the Treasury, the public obligations of all state, cities and towns, even unto Penn Yan.

All these things, Senator, and many other things—hundreds of them—I could enumerate which you are not doing.

In a word, you are, as a candidate, I fear a dismal flop, for you are by temperament, character and education not a sucker-baiting faker.

Remember, Senator, "solid worth" without the arts of seductive vote-hooking and radio swoon-crooning will not get you anywhere. Wise up!—L. A. Examiner.

PAPER MONEY, GOOD WAR BAIT

WASHINGTON—Perhaps the Chinese are right. In Chungking a year and a half ago, I called on Dr. H. H. Kung, minister of finance, to ask him about the inflation of China which was so bad that paper money was being flown into China by the bale instead of spare parts for Chennault's airplanes.

The Chinese finance minister hitched up his long black silk robe and sipped his tea and smiled at my ignorance. He said that inflation in China meant that every coolie had enormous rolls of paper money for the first time in his life.

I had seen that—and had paid coolies two dollars, Chinese money, for an errand that normally would rate 10 cents. Dr. Kung said the big rolls of paper money kept the coolies happy, they felt prosperous.

Therefore they were in favor of the war.

They were just as poor as they would have been under deflation. Yet they had rolls of paper money to handle.

Under deflation they would have felt poor and would have blamed it on the war and would have wanted peace.—Raymond Clapper.

Long Live the Constitution

Dear Kosti:

Your note answered both questions that I had in mind.

So here inclosed is Federal Reserve Note $5.00 No. L27105395A to help you get back on the air. Don't get drunk on it—just get on the air and make our mutual enemies woozy.

Yes—you know, and I know, that one of foreign birth can not Constitutionally be president even tho elected. But does Washington know it? According to the present administration it would seem to be a case of "The Constitution is dead, long live the Constitution". In other words it is dead when it gets in their way, but very much alive when they desire to quote or invoke it.

I ask—if the Constitution is so dead that we can import assistant Presidents and presidential advisors from Europe, why can't we go whole hog and import a president? On all these 130 million people is there only one man who could waste the people's money so prodigously?

May the Christ Spirit always be with U.

America First

Dear Sirs:

It's a welcome surprise to know that some editors and many people are now beginning to find out that Lord Churchill gets what he wants when he visits the United States. We are also glad to note that these editors and people dare to say what some of us have known for some time.

In my opinion America is worth more to humanity, to say nothing of the American people, than any empire ever was, and its just rights should be discussed frankly and fairly without fear or favor.

Churchill always speaks for England first. Stalin always speaks first for Russia. It is high time you and all true Americans speak first for America. Why should we be the only people in the world to put vital interests last instead of first?

Other nations cause and start wars and we begin by paying the bills and doing the fighting. We should hang our heads in shame that we have now become part of the British Empire. What a brave new world our grandchildren and great grandchildren will have. They will wonder how we permitted this to happen. A world political union in my humble opinion will be a guaranteed sure-fire war breeder.

LOST IN THOUGHT

Last Thursday noon I walked on Broadway, crossing Sixth ave., south from the Bank of America. I had just returned from Los Angeles and was lost in a trance, thinking on some matters of deep import to me, when suddenly a lady took my hand, remarking, "I happened to see you, so I wanted to say, halloh," and she left.

By the time I awoke from my trance she was gone and I have no idea who she was.

Well, absent minded professors have nothing on me, at times.

Slaves vs. Freemen

What Jefferson and Lowell Said About "Government" and "Speaking For the Fallen"

To Editor de Aryan:

Congratulations on The Broom's continuous improvement and your great defense of political and religious freedom in America! You are a man in a million, and one does not have to agree with everything you write in order to wish that America had more fighting patriots like yourself.

I offer you a grand quotation from the pen of President Thomas Jefferson, which you can print here in boldface, and should reproduce frequently at the head of your editorial column. Jefferson said:

"One of the best things about our country is that a man can be 100 per cent for the government and 100 per cent against the people running it, and still be a 100 per cent American."

The main psychosis of the New Deal Socialist fanatics, who are persecuting us, is that they believe themselves to be the "government", and that anybody who criticises them and their running of the government is criticising America.

Jefferson merely voiced in matchless rhetoric, in one eloquent sentence, the whole philosophy of our government, which is the right of the free citizens to criticise and oust incompetent officials. This American ideology was held and advocated by every President from Washington to Hoover.

While, on the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt's "Dealers" stand for the Communo-Fascistic theory that individuals are but the pawns, puppets and slaves of the state.

And, speaking of slaves, here is a favorite verse of mine, from the great Anti-Slavery poet, James Russell Lowell, which is also worthy of blackface type:

"They are slaves who fear to speak
For the fallen and the weak;
They are slaves who will not choose
Hatred, scoffing and abuse,
Rather than in silence shrink
From the truth they needs must think.

They are slaves who dare not be
In the right with two or three."

James Russell Lowell was one of the very greatest fighters for freedom our country has produced. I am sure if he were here today, he would stand by the side of you and the rest of us who are suffering persecution for opinion's sake. Here is a little verse that looks like it might have been written for some "de Aryan" of Abe Lincoln's day:

"And I honor the man who is willing to sink,
Half his present repute for the freedom to think,
And, when he has thought, be his cause strong or weak,
Will risk t'other half for the freedom to speak."

Another grand and deathless poem from Lowell's pen is entitled "The Present Crisis":

"Truth forever on the scaffold,
Wrong forever on the throne,
Yet—behind the dim unknown,
Standeth God within the shadow,
Keeping watch above his own.

"Then to side with truth is noble, when we share her wretched crust,
Ere her cause bring fame and profit,
and 'tis prosperous to be just;
Then it is the brave man chooses, while the coward stands aside,
Doubting in his abject spirit, till his Lord is crucified.

"New occasions teach new duties: Time makes ancient good uncouth.
They must upward still, and onward, who would keep abreast of truth."

I am sure, too, that if this noble poet were here today, he would contribute generously to the defense funds of de Aryan, De Priest and all the rest the persecuted ones. He believed in the Bible, which says: "Cast thy bread upon the waters, and it will return to thee after many days." . . . Good luck to you! More power to your pen! And God bless you!

The Japanese Problem

Should American-born Japanese be treated as fellow citizens under our Constitution? Should they be admitted to intermarriage? Should any distinction be made between Japan-born and native-born Asiatics as long as they swear loyalty to the U. S. A.?

These are pressing problems today. It is self-evident that the Japanese are entitled to live on this planet as you and I. God is the Ruler and decides this issue. But the Creator made many mansions and at present the U. S. A. should be the white man's training ground while Asia is for the Asiatics.

On the basis of race we do not favor American citizenship for Japanese any more than we favor intermarriage. The natural demarkation is plain. But cruelty and violence will not righten the wrong done the Japaneses who were brought by the Tories to this country to be exploited as cheap labor, nor to their children who are victims of race differences. When we will sit around the table on the Day of Reckoning and figure out how much it cost us for having forced Japan with our fleet to open her ports to our commerce, we will realize that mixing into the internal affairs of any country is bad business.

The yellow race must solve its own problems. Inter-marriage does not level them with us. Citizenship is improper where Nature draws a line of demarcation. We are paying today for the sins of the Tories who brought black slaves and cheap yellow labor to be exploited on our farms and plantations. The race problem of the South and the yellow problem of the West is not solved by dispersing the victims of Tory exploitation all over the 48 states.

America must be kept a white man's country. A mongrel people will never produce harmony because they are disrupted in inner struggle between the varied impulses belonging to different races. This inner disruption and conflict is expressed in the outer world and leads to cruelty.

All races have a right to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, but they must occupy their own mansions and not intrude in ours. We favor repatriation to Asia for all Asiatics, Africa for all Africans and until then we hope we will treat our unwelcome "guests" like human beings.

Can The Government Print A Cow ?

Hoosier Sam Pettingill ex M. C. and vitriolic Nudeal critic, once asked: Can the Government print a cow? Our answer to that pertinent question is: The Gov't cannot only print a cow but that that cow can be milked.

Back in 1913, certain international bankers hired Congress to pass the Federal Reserve Act in order to make the world safe for the International Bankers during World War 1, which they soon brought on. Since then Federal Reserve Cows (Notes) have been printed by the Gov't and passed out at cost of printing to be milked by the Federal Reserve bankers.

These cows today cost the bankers seven-tenths of a cent apiece, no matter whether they are worth $5, or $50,000 a head. These cows need no feed nor care, and they start giving rich milk and lots of it from the day they are born.

To get this milk the Federal Reserve bankers first pay the Gov't $84 for printing 12,000 cows, wholesale, or seven-tenths of a cent for each cow. Let's say these 12,000 cows (Federal Reserve Notes) are worth $10,000 apiece. The bankers deposit $10,000 in U. S. bonds for each $10,000 cow, in order to get the cows to milk. They still own the bonds and collect interest on them (more milk).

Now for the big milking. The 12,000 cows, worth $10,000 a head, come to $120,000,000. Original cost $84. This $120,000,000 may be spent to buy more government interest bearing but tax exempt bonds, which may then be deposited or posted to buy more cows. And so on!

Cream and milk to the value of 14 billions has been produced from these cows since the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 was passed by a hired Congress. Unless this Act and all its amendments are repealed by the present Congress we, the common people, should make it an all fired Congress in 1944.—Jonskot.

The Federal Reserve Dairy by June 30, 1930, had yielded only 1,402,000,000 in milk and cream. But Breeder Roosevelt changed all this. By June 30, 1940, the yield was $5,163,000,000. And NOW, June 30, 1943, it has reached $13,747,000,000, with an increase yearly of more than the total in 1930. Bales of cows come off the press every month.—MONEY, N. Y.

PLATONIC LOVE

The ancients who were primarily interested in producing wholesome human beings and wholesome human relations, realized that the puritanic attitude of suppression, repression and stultification of the love impulse led to no good end. Instead of making it a matter of sin, the love impulse was cultivated into a source of beauty and inspiring power. This culture started with the babe in the cradle. A child was a gift from God and so the Christ-babe cult arose. The admiration and adoration of the lovable traits in the babe fed these qualities in the child and inspired them to full unfoldment.

As the boy and girl grew up there was no fuss about sex. Up to the age of seven, more likely than not, they ran about in their birthday clothes developing a healthy body without thought of sex, except as a natural incident. Both girls and boys developed no sickly curiosity about sex because they had it before them as a matter of course.

As children lead a natural, affectionate life with parents and family, hugging, kissing and petting was part of the daily diet. All children love a certain amount of it and need it as much as they need sunshine, air and food. This is the wholesome family environment.

During the period from 7 to 14 their time and mind is devoted to the study of fundamentals, such as diet, mathematics, natural organic functions, calisthenics, sports, plays, music and philosophy. Those youngsters are an inquiring bunch and eager to grasp fundamental principles and execute them.

With puberty the real education of creative power and inspiring reality begins. Jesus rebuked the elders for keeping children away from him. Tots and youths need the loving influence of men of high ideals and exemplary conduct. Thus he threw the gates open for them.

The maxim of Christian or Neo-Platonic education in loving one's neighbor and his wife, is contained in Jesus' command: "Love ye one another, even as I love you".

There lies the whole secret.

How does Jesus love the children he sets up in the market place as an example of love that opens the portals of Heaven in Earth? This reciprocity in faith and affection between master and pupils is the key to heaven. We find the Master at the last communion reclined upon his couch with John's head pillowed on his chest. We find the women calling on him and washing his feet and head as a matter of course. We find Mary snuggling up to him with her arms on his knees raptly listening to his words with Martha scolding the sister for preferring him to housework.

And the secret lies: "Love ye one another, even as I love you."

This kind of love and affectionate contact, which is natural between members of a family, is known academically as Platonic love. The children come to the teacher as they do to father and mother. They climb all over him and crowd together while he teaches and as they grow up the affectionate relation does not change.

You know that there is a heart contact between two people which is not established any other way except by affectionate touch. Take the child on your lap, love it and it listens with greater faith in you to your words.

Take your wife on your lap and after she is satisfied you love her, she, too, will be more eager to listen to what you expect of her. Thus to speak to the heart from the heart the ancient teachers established the confidence which lives among members of a family who love each other and stick up for each other as a group-unit. And this natural freedom is what the world needs today so badly to lay the ghost of mistrust and fear.

"Therefore I say unto you, love ye one another even as I love you!"

CHATS WITH GLADYS

'DIVINELY INSPIRED' CRIMES

You could have knocked me down with a feather. I went to the Cafeteria for my lunch and, of all people, there was Gladys in line with her tray.

"My goodness, Gladys, when did you get here?"

"I'll tell you, Kosti, after we get seated. Anne sent me."

So we went thru the maneuvers of loading our trays with food and repaired to the balcony where we took our seats. I studied Gladys. She had matured a little, but the same clear fire burned in her blue eyes.

"Why did you not drop me a note or phone me? Why did you not call at my house or the printshop? Why this accidental meeting here? How long have you been in town?"

Gladys smiled, "All these questions to answer at once?" And she sat there and took me in with her wonderful eyes. "You see, I just arrived and came straight to you as an arrow. Since you were here, here I am, too."

"How is Anne?"

(Editor's Note: Anne is short for Ainyahita, the "mother" of the race, who according to preceding chapters of "Chats with Gladys", published before my imprisonment, had taken abode in one of the Central Asiatic Temples, whence she keeps in touch with contemporary occurrences. She predicted and prepared me for my arrest.)

"The same, wonderful, lovely mother to us all. Grows younger instead of older."

"How come you came to see me?"

"Anne sent me to stand by you during your encounter with Marion. You seemed to act confused and Anne is taking no chances, so she bundled me up into the rocket ship, and here I am."

"Well, what is at stake?"

"Kosti, in our service the Rule of the Christ prevails even above vegetarianism. There are people who are not vegetarians who rank higher, simply because they dare stand with our ultimate ideals while many of the vegetarians don't. When Anne noticed how confused you were to find Marion upholding the war leaders as 'divinely inspired' and putting all her love and efforts into converting you to serve them, instead of the Christ, and you were torn in two in your emotions, as soon as you decided to obey your original instructions, Annne told me to keep you company and make up for your loss."

"Isn't Marion a funny woman?"

"It's the same old story. She did it in Egypt, in Greece, and now she is pulling off the same stunt over again. This time it's her last chance. She'll either learn that she cannot serve two masters, or she'll take her Karma."

"How some people prefer sentimentality to intelligence Here is a woman who decided to follow the Path of Love, to the point where sentiment effaces all sense of Truth. Most peculiar incident."

"Anne had a long talk with me on the subject and while we discussed the matter, you suddenly made your astral appearance, Kosti. So you know most of her instructions already. We were talking about you so interestedly and since in California it was night and you were asleep, your spirit suddenly joined us. But Anne wanted to make sure that you know all the finer points of her instructions when you are awake, so she sent me over to recall them to you."

"Let's see, Gladys, how well I caught on to it. By following the impulse of lovableness and eliminating all that would lead to conflict, Marion finally reduced herself to the point where she has no discrimination between Right and Wrong, but rationalizes that by 'loving our enemies', to win them over to the Christ, we must never say a harsh word or oppose any of their criminal actions, least of all expose their murderous nature, because it would offend them and incite 'the moronic mass' to retribution."

"You have the procedure down correctly, Kosti. Now your part in it is not to permit your heart to get caught in sentimentality towards such a spiritually aberated person. Vegetarianism, foolishly handled, is just as dangerous as meat eating. By eliminating tubers and roots which supply the subterranean mineral substances that our bodies need, to be rooted in matter, Marion depleted herself completely of the means of material mastery and resistance. One cannot substitute fruit for carrots, for example; nor can one substitute sweetness for truth. In this fashion she cultivated an abhorrence for everything subterranean and lacks the physical means necessary to discern between practice and theory. She floats on sentimental impulses without material roots in the world in which we live and must apply ourselves, not only to succeed and hold our own, but to reproduce our kind to populate the earth with awakened, materially masterful souls.

"By followig the line of least resistance, Marion has completely ignored the fact expressed by Jesus in Matthew 10:34, that he has not come to bring us a sickening, sweet sort of peace which appeases criminals, but on the contrary, those who follow Him must choose between Principle and personal loyalties. She teaches that to be a 'good American' one must be loyal to the President in place of the Constitution."

"Yes, Gladys. She imagines her work to be non-political, while in fact she works day and night for the new deal, communistic, socialistic method of undermining American institutions and the tradition of individual initative. That's why she finally made The Broom, as a political agent."

"But, Kosti, she is doing more than that. In her 'lovable obsession' of avoiding conflict, she considers Jeannette Rankin 'a hussy, who, in order to attract the limelight to herself, embarrassed the President by voting against him', and inserted a speech in the congressional record, on the anniversary of Pearl Harbor, showing that the President was waging war on Japan months before Pearl Harbor. Jeanette is anything but a limelight-seeking hussy. Spreading such vicious lies about the woman who twice dared vote her convictions, in both wars, makes Marion subject to Karmic reaction. Anne wants to make sure you are not attached to her when the wave comes back, for you have work to do and cannot afford to be mixed up with such personal, cattish attitude, of a petty mind."

"Well, Gladys, it certainly is marvelous you are here again. I am recovering from my many shocks and am preparing for more to come and I can see where I must not imagine that one's rank in the spiritual world is wholly determined by one's method of feeding. I found meat-eaters who rank way above vegetarians in their courage to stand with the Christ and not worship war as 'divinely inspired leadership'. Naturally, I prefer their company in this crisis and it is so marvelous to know that Anne looks after us and sent you to fill in the void, that I may have one of my own kind near, during this hectic period of re-adjustment."

"Whenever you need me, you know where to find me, Kosti, now I must go and look after the luggage. You see, I came straight to you, before I even unpacked or straightened out my quarters."

ATHEIST STAYS ON AT HOTEL LEAMINGTON

Dear Kosti:

As you know the manager of this Hotel ordered me to vacate because I am an atheist.

So far have had no news from hotel except a bill for Nov. rent.

The manager has received letters from all over the U. S. and my guess is that, in the future, he will not be so fast about following orders of his priest. Enclosed is the main Minnesota law on the subject.

FRANK C. HUGHES,
Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Economic Equity

By Chas. H. Ingersoll
(THE ORIGINAL $ WATCH MAKER)

NEW YORK—Jay Franklin, New Deal columist, puts up the novel proposition that the labor draft is unconstitutional and equals slavery. His authority is not a New Deal Supreme Court, but Barney Baruch, who could qualify as an expert in Wall Street speculation and war managment methods. The Baruch theory is that drafting labor would be a private affair because business is still (technically?) private in the U. S. A.: unionism-Communism-New Dealism not yet having prevailed, and taken over by bureaucracy all business. This claim, tho flattering to the future of business is rather weak considering the extent to which business has volunteered or been drafted to public service. The best argument is that the unions don't want to be drafted for a variety of very good reasons, and they have proven their ability to resist.

The 50-50 Democracy we have is getting weaker rapidly, because its most important half—economics—is missing.

This new definition of 'Slavery', is being discussed by Franklin, William Green laborist, and Walter Lippmann statesman. I've only read their headlines, but will, as I often do, offer my two cents worth and read further at my convenience. Franklin is rated as a New Dealer and seems to have started the idea that manpower drafting for industry was in a different class than drafting for purposes of mud, blood and tears. Green seems consistent in seconding this slavery notion: and Walter's is usually the last word. The President is so far resisting the industry draft, evidently impressed with the new idea. To me it seems obvious that drafting to work easy hours at fancy pay is less slavery than the same compulsion to die in a jungle under the frankly expressed horrors of mass murder, called war. So I am almost surprised to find so little to say when Lippman has written 1500 words of negative (probably at a nickle each). My last word is that in union there is power 'and that supreme court decisions folly the illiction returns' (Dooley): so I expect the Franklin-Green definition to be unanimously confirmed!

War forced N. J. to drop a very well organized fight for sane taxation. And war may force N. Y, to start such a fight. And if it would do that in every state, war would be well worth its tragic cost in dollars and precious blood. The Sanford bill in N. J. proposed to remove all taxes on labor products or improvements on land, to the land itself: but the legislature refused to further consider such constructive measures after Pearl Harbor. In N. Y. City the Mayor, always ready for new tax burden, would double the sales tax. Business, at long last alert, has helped the legislature to prohibit this increase (ignoring the fact that about all our present taxes finally fall on the consumer— on sales): and the Mayor predicts this will force a special session: If it will also force our experts, industrialists and capitalists to use their engineers and start revising an utterly rotten tax system that makes poverty by destroying buying power and builds monopoly—this will be a cheap war at $300 billion.

THE HOUSE INSIDE

Dear Sir:

I read an article by you on "Individual Breath" in How to Live, magazine. It is the best I ever read in my life and you explain it so a school boy can understand it.

Do you publish a book on the complete series of articles? Or can you supply me the complete articles, if not in book form.

Have you a back copy of the Broom containing the poem "The House Inside"; you could clip the poem out and send it to me.

I have been studying for 18 years on Truth, so please save me the above articles.

Please advise cost of book or set of articles and I will send U. S. A. funds money order with my order.

Thanking you very much,
Yours truly, — — A CANADIAN.

Poem, The House Inside; I have only 3 lines of it;

I have a house inside of me,
The house that people never see,
It has a door thru which none pass . . . etc.

Editor's Note: The Broom has been banned from Canada, but evidently His Majesty's Service cannot keep Canadians from reading it. We are out of papers containing the requested poem.

"Health & Breath" is supplied in book form by the Mazdaznan Press, 1159 So. Norton Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., and contains all that is needed by white folks to understand.

A haughty, nervous and voluble female customer had just bought a stamp, "Must I put it on myself?"

Post Office Assistant (very politely): "Not necessarily, ma'am; it will probably accomplish more if you put it on the letter."

MY ADVENTURES IN AMERICA

By C. Leon de Aryan

NATIONAL RACKETEERS ASSOCIATION

The files of THE BROOM are in Washington, D. C., in anticipation of another indictment, as an aftermath to the N. R. A. Thus I am unable to give correct dates in the following narrative.

When one does not see LIFE with the eyes of the Eternal Spirit, as one Drama that is being played out upon these earthly scenes, it does not become plain that the N. R. A. period did not stop with the decision of the Supreme Court that is was illegal. For immediately after this racket was declared unconstitutional, so that it was nothing but a misuse of the mails by Franklin Delano Roosevelt to defraud private citizens of the control of their own business, under threat of boycott, the Cahilla, for whom FDR fronts, set to work to devise other ways and means to deprive the individual citizen of his property, as well as liberty, thru regimentation and packing of the Supreme Court. The old scheme was re-introduced in new disguises, all of them unconstitutional, but the new deal doctrine is that a thing becomes constitutional whenever the Court can be packed to so rule. This, then, brings us into conflict with the Court even, because the Constitution does not change and we are sworn to protect it, not to betray it to please the gang behind FDR, whenever they succeed to get a ruling in violation of the Constitution.

Those of us who still are God-fearing men and women, regardless of the political gangs in power, must seek counsel and guidance, to fearlessly stand by the Constitution, for only in that measure will God help us.

On the other hand, those of us who DARE stand with the Constitution need not fear, for God is party to the oath we took, and even though the mass of the people is oblivious of the Constitution, the Almighty responds.

In this assurance lies the power that cannot be conquered by the adversaries. Here they are estopped, when one has only faith enough to stand fast. If I had my files here I could fix the date of the VISIT I had one early morning, when a session was held in my bedroom, on the astral plane, and I was instructed to start and keep on denouncing the misdeeds of FDR and his cohorts, who have nothing but contempt for our "horse and buggy" Constitution and the oath, they, and we, took to defend it and observe it.

Previously I had set great stores by Herbert Hoover as president. I was interested, after he failed so dismally, to find out more about the man. He knew about the projected plan of regimenting the U. S. A., but he did not take his information to the people, but merely warned the big industrialists that one should not underestimate the intelligence of the public in America.

Hoover was wrong. The public is terribly slow in catching on, and learns only from bitter experience.Had Hoover crusaded, from the first and exposed what today is known as the New Deal conspiracy, better named the junk deal conspiracy to junk America and sell it out to the junk dealers for a song, the people would have followed him and given him a second term in the White House. And America would be a better country today.

Instead of trusting the American people, Hoover turned General MacArthur loose to drive the veterans out of their capital for which they had shed their blood and taken their lives into the maws of death.

At election time Mrs. de Aryan was listening more to the radio than I did. She favored Norman Thomas. I persuaded her to vote for the Tory Roosevelt in preference, explaining that this Tory would at least hang on to his own property and thus, to some extent, private property would still survive after a fashion, while under Thomas socialism would destroy private initiative alltogether. Private property is the basis of individual rights.

Under Thomas we would vote ourselves completely into collectivism, under the Tory we still have a fighting chance to restore the Republic after he and his communistic hordes did their worst.

And it came to pass as I had foreseen. No sooner did we vote Roosevelt into office than the wrecking crew went to work to junk America and sell it to the junk dealers who pick up the pieces for a song and incorporate them into their corporations. Thus Lehman Bros. and his cohorts are riding high.

Naturally, with the Tory in the saddle, England would take another chance at treating us as a colony, and this, too, came to pass with the advent of the King and Queen, followed by Mr. Churchill.

Even before Hoover relinquished his office the International Bankers went to work to wreck the independent American banks. Hoover should have exposed them, but he was a "gentleman" who did not trust the people. Think of the true situation! In 1933 the Federal Reserve Bank could not find 2 billion dollars credit to prevent the bank panic. But where did they keep 300 billions they have since loaned to make war? And they draw interest on money they officially stated THEY HAD NOT in 1933.

So FDR became the "savior" of the country by closing the banks and liquidating many a solvent, independent, American owned bank to make room for a branch bank of the International crowd.

My "telephone" in the epiphysis started to "ring" immediately with the first official act of President Roosevelt, and ever since I have been appraised step by step of what was ACTUALLY going on. THE BROOM has warned the nation time and again, as we are doing it again, and again, and our prophecies prove true. But as in the days of the prophets, those in power prefer to stone them and the mob knows no better.

Bernard Baruch was installed as the "unofficial president" at the capital. The slogans and catch words of the alien crowd were only too familiar to me. I had heard them in Babylon, Greece, Rome and Jerusalem in centuries gone by; in Egypt, Persia and Assyria. Such is the advantage one has who has memories from previous incarnations. I was set to meet the push of FDR and his un-American "advisors" who are today the real rulers of this country. Some call me foolish, but the test of manhood lies in being true to oneself. One single, awakened, God-fearing soul, with determination to be true to the oath of citizenship to the Republic, is mightier than the whole junk deal crowd in the long run. Perseverance is the secret that leads to victory over the wrecking crew.

Baruch gave us the NIRA and installed his two satellites to shove it down our throats and make us worship his blue eagle under threat of boycott, setting aflame class hatred which was the beginning of nation wide anti-semitism.

THE GOVERNMENT, BEHIND THE VEIL

Baruch, Frankfurter, Rosenman & Co., with their whole tribe, are the rulers in our present administration. But the REAL Rulers behind the scenes are still the Elder Brothers who watch over the destiny of MAN. Their order of the day "Give the aliens all the rope they need", and watch the results. History repeats itself today in the U. S. A., with more to come.

Lehman reaps the golden fruits, and with him his kind who ran away from European retribution. By usurpation, by "interpretation" of basic law, by pork and misuse of public funds, they planned to bribe, corrupt, terrorize and BOYCOTT Americans until all resistance is broken and the Republic is a thing of a past generation. And they have ALMOST succeeded, but almost is still a barrier to success. If it were not for the God-given, innate urge of the 144,000 Americans who cannot be conquered by the alien crowd, cannot be bribed and corrupted, the Republic would be a thing of the past.

The junk dealers figured that by calling their administration the "government" they could induce the common man to give up his right and duty of self-government and look up with awe to the usurpers, who installed themselves in power OVER WE the people, who are the real and ultimate rulers. By calling FDR our LEADER, especially our Commander-in-Chief, they hoped to re-introduce the British attitude of the subjects towards their monarch and perpetuate the Roosevelt dynasty, or at least the British system by which "the betters" succeed themselves in the seat of power so it does not matter which one is elected or appointed, the same class rules.

The planners failed to take into consideration that THOUGHTS are THINGS and that as they think them out, they register in the minds of those who are gifted to read and record thoughts. Thus the whole scheme was known from its inception, but the Elder Brothers advised that the American people must get an object lesson of what the alien crowd has done to every country in history where they came into power, THEN the people will be ready to wrest the power away from them, take it into their own hands and re-establish the Republic. With the passage of Bernie Baruch's NRA and AAA bills the time for exposing the schemers had arrived.

Instead of informing me by long distance telepathy what to do, the master minds who are domiciled in the temples of Central Asia, watching over MAN, assembled in my room at 2 o'clock in the morning. I was awakened and sat up in bed and there they all were grouped around my bed. I can still see them now. Unbelievable, but true. And that of all people I should be charged with the duty of holding high the torch of the REPUBLIC, in such spectacular fashion, so that I could never forget it and need never doubt the divine destiny before us, filled me with awe and a prayer that I may prove worthy of the task. The sum and substance of their message was: "Kosti, the time is here. Roosevelt is abusing his office. It is NOT the President of the U. S. A. who is misusing the mails to defraud you of your right to manage your own business, but Roosevelt the Chief Racketeer who has forsaken his oath of office and loyalty to the Constitution. Fear him not! Expose him at every turn in the road till he is out of office!"

Naturally, such a charge, under such spectacular circumstances, with 50 years experience behind me by which I have learned to discern between reality and hallucination, set me on the road which I am treading still, in the service of God, of the Republic and the Individualism which is America.

I have been set upon, beaten up, thrown in the bay, boycotted, jailed, but whenever the flesh is weak I recall those Elder Brothers seated around my bed at 2 in the morning and I see the glorious future which they permitted me to glimpse, the future George Washington saw in his vision of America, after THE THIRD WORLD WAR is fought, when ALL the nations of earth unite in invading our territory, because the result of world war 2, made all the world our enemy who takes with both hands what we give them, but envies the giver.

But all of them cannot prevail against American Genius. (To Be Continued)

Kuhn Testifies Before Special Grand Jury

WASHINGTON— Fritz Kuhn, 48-year-old convict-fuehrer of the one-time powerful German-American Bund, spent a whole day testifying on sedition in this country before a special grand jury in District Court.

Although he lacked his medal-bedecked gaudy uniform, the rotund Kuhn has changed little since 1941 when he was sent to Dannemora Penitentiary for larceny of the funds of his bund.

His English has improved, he demonstrated as he sat in the hall of the court shouting and arguing in his gutteral accented voice. Occasionally, he would rise and stomp back and forth.

Wants Wife's Fare Paid

"The next time I am called down here, I want my wife to have her fare paid, too," he protested to Joseph Burns, a special assistant to the Attorney General.

Burns merely shrugged. He patted Kuhn on the back and walked away.

Kuhn laughed vigorously, then called Burns back to argue about his testimony.

Kuhn lost his citizenship in March, when a Federal judge found the American fuehrer had fraudulently sworn allegiance to this country. He was released from prison in June and taken to an internment camp for dangerous enemy aliens at Crystal City, Tex.

He wasn't handcuffed but two United States marshals were along to guard him.

Kuhn wore the same thick rimless glasses, a tweed topcoat, baggy pants and a light gray hat. He chain-smoked cigarettes whenever the grand jury recessed.

In Session 3 Weeks

The grand jury has been in secret sessions for three weeks. It was called after part of an indictment of a previous grand jury was found faulty. That and a second grand jury found that 33 persons, including several now in jail for un-American activities, had conspired to undermine the morale of the armed forces.

Among those under indictment are William Dudley Pelley, Ralph V. Townsend, Elizabeth Dilling and George Sylvester Viereck.

CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED ?

"In the coming general elections for 1944 in this country, the decision to be made by the people of the United States is whether we desire the "consent of the governed" to be restored, or to plunge headlong down the primrose path into the pit of utter darkness ending in a complete dictatorship, one-man rule, planned economy, regimentation, loss of free enterprise, enslaved labor and the socialization of business. In a word, political and economic despotism.

"This is a blunt and alarming way to put it, but without boring you with details you know full well that that is precisely the direction we are heading and have been heading for the past ten years."—Carlsbad Journal.

The surest way to get in bad is to try to please everybody.

The New Deal Madhouse

Then there is this startling case, for which Congressman John Phillips of Banning is the authority. A merchant in Calexico, in the Imperial Valley, on the California side of the international line, had been buying his bran from Mexicali, just across the border. Officials of the War Production Board discovered this and informed him he would have to have a permit to import this bran, even though the buyer and seller were probably less than a half a mile apart. The merchant immediately applied to Washington for the required permit and received this wire in repuly:

"Shipping space available for food on boats from this point should be used for more important commodities, so we regret that we must deny this application."

Invited to Boatride

Congressman Phillips, we understand, promptly invited all his constituents to take a ride on the steamboat between Calexico and Mexicali.

DAVID KUEHL DOING FINE

When I returned from Los Angeles last week I was informed that young David Kuehl, of 504 So. 37th St., had met with an automobile accident while delivering papers. I called his grandmother by phone who verified the report and told me the boy was at the Mercy Hospital.

On Friday morning I called at the Hospital where I received special permission to see David outside of visiting hours.

"I am O. K.," said the red headed youngster, quite surprised to see me. "I had dropped a paper on Imperial ave., and turned the bike to pick it up when a car struck me. He broke my right leg below the knee."

"Did it hurt much?"

"It never hurt me at all.The man stopped and they left me in the street till the police called the ambulance. I will be O. K. again. The left leg is bruised, too, but I can move it allright."

"Anything I could bring you, David. A book to read?"

"No, thanks, Mr. de Aryan. Look over there, see all those books?" At that time the nurse brought his lunch and the menu and David checked on it and was quite pleased. So I said my adieu and left. The boy is in good spirits and it appears will be soon walking again.

DID GOD FORGET?

What becomes of the benificence of a Creator who has not provided laws to govern distribution.—BECKWITH.

A SONNET

They give God credit for providing laws
That have made plentiful our daily bread,
But in distribution there are flaws
That leave some hungry and some overfed.

Did God forget (some churchmen think He did)
To lay down laws for proper distribution?
Did He leave to man to grope his way amid
The problems that admit of no solution?

Better the fool who sayeth in his heart
There is no God, than to believe in One
Whose science has neglected to impart
The knowledge whereby justice can be done.

Churchmen and Counselors! When will you learn
God is not mocked, whose Providence you spurn!

WAR PROVES BAD GOVERNMENT

". . . when this was is over, the people are going to go carefully into its causes. They are going to review the diplomacy of the last 20 years. And they are going to find out that this war need never have happened. They are going to see that it was the result of the game of power politics, fostering the hope that a war would occur which would not affect their own nation, but militate to their own interests.

"They are also going to see that wars occur because the governments and ruling powers of nations do not know how to organize and use their own resources and manpower for the wealth and happiness of their own people, and so turn them loose in conquest as a way out of a dilemma."—Dorothy Thompson.

Congress must be ready to amend, restrict or even to recall any authority it has granted during the war emergency if abuse of power makes it essential. It is the solemn responsibility of congress to revoke these powers when the war is over.—Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts.
